

Jarrold Hahn, CFM

Wells County Surveyor

Jarrold Hahn has been serving as the Wells County Surveyor since 2005, he holds an AAS degree in CAD drafting, a surveying certificate from Purdue Northwest, and attended Purdue Fort Wayne for his BS degree in construction engineering with a focus on land surveying. He is a Licensed Professional Surveyor in Indiana (PS) and is a Certified Floodplain Manager (CFM).

He is currently serving as the President of the Indiana County Surveyors Association and is a past president of the Indiana Land Improvement Contractors Association. He serves on the Wells County Area Plan Commission, Plat committee, and GIS committee. He is currently serving on the legislative committees for the County surveyors, AIC, ISPLS, and INAFSM. Also serving as a Board member on the Upper Wabash River Basin Commission and the Maumee River Basin Commission. He was appointed by Governor Holcomb to serve on The Drainage Task Force, and was appointed to the steering committee for the update of the Indiana Drainage Handbook by Lt. Governor Suzanne Crouch.

Hahn was awarded the President's award from the County Surveyors Association in 2010, Outstanding County Surveyor from the Association of Indiana Counties in 2011, and the Contractor of the year award from the Land Improvement Contractors in 2008.

Jarrold is a lifelong resident of Wells County, living on his family farm with his wife, Kathy, and son Jacob.

