

FARM LEGACY

CHERYL B. MITCHELL

www.cherylbmitchell.com | www.farmlegacynow.com
217-369-0637 | cheryl@cherylbmitchell.com

Cheryl Bierman Mitchell was raised on a dairy farm in Jasper County, Illinois, where her deep connection to agriculture and rural communities was first cultivated. Growing up as a dairy farmer's daughter instilled in her a strong work ethic, a deep respect for the land, and an understanding of the values that bind generations together. Those roots have shaped her passion for engaging with people from all walks of life.

With over 30 years of experience in leadership development, training, and public speaking, Cheryl has impacted thousands of humans through her dynamic and relatable approach. Her expertise spans a wide range of audiences—from young children to seasoned professionals—reflecting her rare ability to connect with people aged 5 to 95. Whether facilitating critical conversations about farm legacies or delivering inspiring keynotes to large audiences, she brings warmth, authenticity, and a talent for fostering meaningful connections.

Known for her ability to blend professional insight with a personal touch, Cheryl is committed to guiding individuals and organizations toward growth, collaboration, and sustainable success.

While her professional accomplishments are numerous, Cheryl's greatest joy will always be, as a single mom, raising her two sons: Doug, a firefighter/paramedic for the Lexington Kentucky Fire Department; and Ben a Deputy Sheriff with the Mesa County Sheriff's Office, Grand Junction, Colorado.

Website: www.farmlegacynow.com

Link to book: Farm Legacy or Loss: The Decision is Yours